Introduction : Dear Sir...my name is Neha Gautam and I am calling from ELCINA (Electronic Industries Association for India) New Delhi

Permission : is it good time to talk, I ll need just 2 minutes (if Yes, continue else ask for convenient time to call back)

Introduction to Source India Portal : Sir as you may be aware that with the support from Members and Ministry of Electronics & IT Govt of India, ELCINA ESDM portal (Source India – electronics supply Chain) is now live. This is a B2B Portal to enable companies to post their products online on which they can receive enquiries. This portal usage is free for ELCINA Members. As default, Member's current information available with ELCINA has been uploaded on the Portal

You may have received an email from info@sourceindia-electronics.com containing your login details for the Portal. (Check if he is aware or you may say, will send the details again, keep the registered ID handy). Now we are requesting members to login and update their information. You may put all your products/services on the portal.

We request you to kindly share your login details with someone in your office who can login and update the information, add details of your products etc. so that the Portal is active and has the latest information about your company.

To access the portal please log on to :

<https://sourceindia-electronics.com/home>

User ID and Password as received on email from info@sourceindia-electronics.com

Once your login with your user name and password,

1. Check your company details
2. Check your user details
3. Add your products/services
4. Change your password

If you face any challenge is updating your details, please email/call to us.
